FIRST STRIKE VOTE INVOLVING HALF MILLION AUTO WORKERS STAGED AT GENERAL MOTORS

Ballot Favoring Work Stoppage to Enforce CIO Union Demands for 30 Per Cent Wage Rate Increase Appears Certain

SPOKESMAN PREDICTS BUT A LIGHT TURNOUT

BULLETIN
Washington, Oct. 24.—(P)—The government moved toward a decision on national wage-price policy today, spurred by the start of strike-voting among 500,000 auto workers. President Truman arranged to confer at 3 p. m. with members of the Reconversion Advisory Board, whose membership takes in topflight spokesmen for management and organized labor. The board was called into special session at the White House this morning to debate a revision of the reconversion wage-price program.

By the Associated Press
The first of three strike votes involving some half-million workers in the automobile industry's "Big Three" was held today as employees of General Motors Corporation balloted in a federally-conducted election costing an estimated $250,000.

A vote favoring a work stoppage to enforce the CIO-United Automobile Workers' demands for a 30 per cent wage rate increase appeared certain, even to corporation officials, but a union spokesman asserted that a strike would not necessarily follow the election.

He predicted a light turnout of GM's 300,000 employees, but sufficient to make a strike legal. Results will be announced by the National Labor Relations Board, probably late tomorrow. Union spokesmen predicted 90 per cent of the voters would approve a strike.

The ballot held the center of attention along the nation's labor front, and will be followed by a vote tomorrow among Chrysler Corp. employees, and among Ford Motor Co. workers on Nov. 7. Across the country labor disputes kept about 225,000 men and women away from work, a slight drop in the last 24 hours.

As workers voted, officials of General Motors and the union resumed their wage conference, but there were no indications of a settlement.

The strike of motion picture workers in Hollywood, which has been marked by increased violence in recent weeks, was placed before the AFL executive council in Cincinnati today for consideration. Eric Johnston, chief of the Motion Picture Producers' Association, and Donald Nelson, independent producers' representative, were to appear before the council as spokesmen for the industry.

Meanwhile, in Hollywood, yesterday's renewal of fighting between non-strikers and pickets resulted in injury to some 50 persons and the arrest of 13 persons. Studios have appealed to the courts to halt the mass picketing, which has resulted in curtailment of production of motion pictures at some studios.

Service in Chicago's elevated lines was scheduled to be halted for two hours today as some 4,300 AFL operating employees planned a work stoppage between 1 and 3 p. m. CDT in protest over a dispute relating to retroactive pay.

In Miami, Fla., nearly 2,000 Pan American Airways maintenance employees were idle after a sit-down strike in protest against what CIO union spokesmen said were violations by the company of a preunion contract agreement. Flights, however, continued on schedule.

In New York, some 800 maintenance and mechanics workers of American Airlines and its subsidiary were out today.

No work will be done before next spring, Martin told a news conference, but it need not await vacation of the Gap by the war department. The government took over the reservation before Pearl Harbor, for training of troops, and now is using it as a separation center.

The Gap eventually will revert to its status of training grounds for the Pennsylvania National Guard.

Martin said the moving plans were approved at a meeting yesterday by the reservation commission, the State Army Board and a group of officers planning reorganization of the guard.

TELEPHONES FOR ALL
Philadelphia, Oct. 24.—(P)—A state-wide program to provide telephones for all persons wanting them—condition prevented by wartime shortages—has been put into operation by the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, says Carl R. Frehaver, vice president and general manager.

Next spring, Martin told a news conference, but it need not await vacation of the Gap by the war department. The government took over the reservation before Pearl Harbor, for training of troops, and now is using it as a separation center.

Urges Universal Military Training

(NEA Telephoto)
Legislation requiring one year of military training of every male American was asked by President Truman as he addressed, above, a joint session of congress. House Speaker Sam Rayburn sits on the rostrum in the background.

Congress Is In No Mood For Action on Universal Training

Washington, Oct. 24.—(P)—An uncertain congress held up a moistened finger for the winds of public reaction today before tackling President Truman's universal military training program.

Brought up short against a problem many aren't ready to meet, legislators appeared to be separating into these three groups:

1. Those willing to approve, lock, stock and barrel, Mr. Truman's proposal that a year's training be given all physically able young men while they are between the ages of 17 and 20. This appeared to be a minority group. 2. Those who want a modified training program which won't disrupt young America's education. This seemed to take in the great body of middle-rollers.

3. Those who oppose any form of compulsion, think volunteer military training will meet the nation's needs. They form another minority group.

Leaders probably wished President Truman hadn't brought up the matter at this time. There was no measure on hand designated as an administration bill to carry out his plan.

Senate Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky) said he didn't know when any action might be taken. Neither house nor senate military committees made any move.

White House advisers were quoted as second hand as having said Mr. Truman had decided to take his stand and let the political ships fall where they may. These advisers reportedly think universal training may be the chief issue in the 1946 congressional campaign if the legislators don't act.

The president was represented as wanting no compromise of his proposal that every young man be tagged for a year of government instruction, except those physically unfit.

Capitol Hill's general interpretation was that Mr. Truman had decided power is going to do most of the talking in world affairs for some time to come.

Legislators thought he had come to this conclusion after long conversations with Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, and Secretary of State Byrnes, just back from the disappointing five-week trip to Moscow.

Company spokesmen said they were going to seek an injunction against members of Local 2898, United Steelworkers of America (CIO), in an attempt to prevent picketing at the plant, strike-bound for three weeks.

Police Captain Edward O'Malley reported a third picket was injured in skirmishes this morning. Two were hurt yesterday.

Meanwhile, Harry Black, president of the Philadelphia Industrial Union Council (CIO), said he would call a board meeting today to act on a request by International Representative Kazimir Miller that all CIO unions in the city declare a "labor holiday" in support of the strike.

Philadelphia, Oct. 24.—(P)—Strikers at SKF Industries, Inc., reinforced by steel-helmeted shipyard workers and carrying American flags, turned back automobiles of company officials trying to drive through their lines into the plant today.

MILLIONS IN JAPAN FACE STARVATION

Harassed Government Prepares to Beg for Outside Aid to Meet Food Crisis

MONOPOLY DISSOLVING

By RUSSELL BRINES

Tokyo, Oct. 24.—(P)—Directors of Japan's biggest multi-million dollar family monopoly, prodded by the stigma of being linked with the war effort, wrestled today with reorganization—while the harassed government prepared to beg for outside aid to meet a food crisis.

The problem before the directors of Mitsui, a company dating back to 1673, was what to do with holdings which are frowned on under the present setup by General MacArthur.

The problem before Welfare Minister Hitoshi Ashida was how to feed the people through the critical months of November and December until transportation deficiencies are overcome to permit adequate distribution of the currently harvested rice crop. Ashida said his government plans to negotiate with the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

American occupation interest was focused on the visit of a war department official from Washington. Little was being said about the conferences of John J. McCloy, assistant secretary of war, although these already have included a meeting with MacArthur.

Leaders probably wished President Truman hadn't brought up the matter at this time. There was no measure on hand designated as an administration bill to carry out his plan.

Senate Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky) said he didn't know when any action might be taken. Neither house nor senate military committees made any move.

Chicago Woman Gets Third Divorce In Year

Chicago, Oct. 24.—(P)—Mrs. Bielah Leggett, 31, obtained a divorce yesterday—making her fifth husband since her first marriage 15 years ago, and her third in the last year.

"Yes," she told reporters, "I expect to get married again. There's no shortage of men, but there is a shortage of good men—that's for sure."

Her last divorce was obtained before Circuit Judge Elmer J. Schnackenberg from Otto Leggett, 33, a railroad worker, whom she charged with cruelty. They were married last March.

Man Sought In Rifle Death Is Still Missing

Uniontown, Oct. 24.—(P)—State police today began a systematic search of old beehive coke ovens and other hiding places for 72-year-old Blair Kreiger, Spanish-American war veteran, wanted for questioning in the rifle death of one man and the serious wounding of another.

Sgt. Paul T. Engle said the elderly man fled from home Monday night after the shooting and that efforts to find him were unsuccessful.

Engle said the man's neighbors said he carried a high-powered rifle when he left home.

Police arrived at the Kreiger home to find John Molchen, 63, dead in front of the house, a bullet hole through the chest, and Clyde Ogeltorpe, 44, shot in the shoulder.

Ogeltorpe, in Uniontown Hospital, was reported in a fair condition.

Police said neighbors told them there had been a quarrel about Ogeltorpe's radio playing too loudly and too late at night.

John Molchen's death was the second tragedy in his family in a little over two months. His father, Vasil Molchen, 72, was killed Aug. 8 when struck by an automobile.

John Molchen's wife died in 1940. They had 10 children, two of whom are overseas with the U. S. Army.

Steelworkers Committee To Meet Friday

Pittsburgh, Oct. 24.—(P)—Rejection by U. S. Steel Corp. of employees' demands for a $2-a-day pay boost brought a call for a meeting Friday of the CIO-United Steelworkers of America policy committee.

Philip Murray, president of both the USW and the CIO, asked the committee to meet here "to authorize such actions as the situation may require."

Benjamin F. Fairless, president of U. S. Steel, said the corporation could not grant the increase because of the government's wage stabilization policy and the existing ceiling on steel products.

Fairless declared: "Under present OPA ceiling prices, which are little above the quoted prices for steel before the war, the huge increases in labor and other costs since 1940 have brought us to the point where we are today selling a great majority of our steel products at less than cost."

U. S. Steel President Murray issued a statement in which he declared the U. S. Steel's rejection statement was "replete with distortions and absurdities."

Murray added what was interpreted as a word of warning to steelworkers to await action of their policy committee.

Murray said the national pay envelope is shrinking by $20,000,000 a year and said the "substantial raise of $2 a day" is needed to keep the wheels of industry turning.

HUNGER STRIKE IN PRISON IS HALTED

Philadelphia, Oct. 24.—(P)—Convicts at Eastern Penitentiary today were eating regularly today after a second hunger strike in two weeks ended.

Twelve inmates, who had refused food since Monday, broke their fast yesterday. They had protested the quality of food served.

The first group of 13 hunger strikers quit a 15-day fast Sunday because they did not get the same privileges as other prisoners.

SEEK NEW CASTLE MORON

New Castle, Oct. 24.—(P)—State, county and city police today sought an unknown man who State, county and city police today reported seized and criminally assaulted a young woman in Highland Heights Monday night.

This young woman, whose name police declined to divulge, told them, they said, that the man seized her and choked her. She was dragging him toward some bushes as she lost consciousness, she police quoted her as saying. She is under the care of a physician.

NORWAY'S ARCH TRAITOR IS PUT TO DEATH FOR DEALING WITH NAZIS DURING THE WAR

Only Witnesses To Execution of Hitler Puppet Are Unidentified Member of Prosecution, Clergyman and Officer in Charge

SUPREME COURT FAILS TO RECOMMEND REPRIEVE

By NED NORDNESS

Oslo, Oct. 24.—(P)—Vidkun Quisling, Norway's arch traitor, was executed by a firing squad before dawn today, paying the final price for dealing with an enemy his king and countrymen defied throughout the bitter years of the war.

The greatest secrecy surrounded the execution, a foreign affairs spokesman said.

Quisling was awakened in his cell at about 2 a. m. (8 p. m. Tuesday, EST) and rushed quickly before the firing squad of 10 Norwegian military police. The only witnesses were an unidentified member of the state prosecution, a clergyman and the officer who gave the order to fire.

Anneaus Schjoedt, state prosecutor who presented the case against the pallid former puppet dictator, and Henrik Bergh, Quisling's defense lawyer, said they had not been notified in advance that Quisling was to be executed.

The Norwegian embassy in London announced that Quisling was shot at 2:40 a. m. and quoted a statement by the Royal Norwegian minister of justice:

"The sentence of death passed on Vidkun Quisling on the 13th of October by the supreme court in Oslo was carried out by shooting at 2:40 a. m. Norwegian time."

"The supreme court did not recommend a reprieve. Neither could the state prosecutor."

"Quisling sent the king a letter in which he pointed out he was innocent, but added he did not ask for a reprieve."

Mrs. Quisling, however, requested a reprieve on behalf of her husband. In a cabinet meeting yesterday, the king rejected Mrs. Quisling's petition for mercy and decided the sentence would be carried out.

"Quisling's relatives were notified of the execution at 8 a. m. this morning."

In the slightly more than five years he ruled Norway as Adolf Hitler's puppet, the name of Vidkun Abraham Lauritz Quisling became a synonym for traitor.

He was virtually known outside his own country before he emerged in April, 1940, as a collaborator with the German invaders of his homeland. Behind him was a record of political failure and discontent with his profession, the army. Even after the Nazis lifted him to power he could rally no confidence among his people.

Strikes and sabotage marked his early rule, and his regime survived only by Nazi force of arms.

Born of peasant stock in the southern province of Telemark July 18, 1887, Quisling became a brilliant student and entered the army, in which he won speedy advancement, serving as military attaché at Petrograd and Helsinki in 1918-20.

In 1922-23 he represented the International Russian Relief organization in the Ukraine and Crimea, later working on Russian and Armenian relief problems.

He left Russia in 1930 and returned to Norway, where, having resigned from the army in 1928 after a quarrel with the general staff, he found himself forgotten.

Entering politics, he was named by the Farmers' party government of 1932 as minister of defense and as such presided over his country's disarmament. After a few obscure political battles, he founded in 1933 his own party.

"Go Ahead" Signal Is Given PTA Council on War Memorial

The Warren Community Council Parent-Teachers Association got the "go ahead" signal yesterday afternoon from the joint war memorial committee of the borough council and chamber of commerce.

Representatives of the three bodies met at 3:30 p. m. yesterday afternoon in the offices of W. E. Yeager, manager of the Community Consumer Discount Company, and the result was that the original committee which was appointed not to buy land, open a solicitation campaign, nor build a memorial, but to investigate possibilities of a proper site and obtaining funds, stated that it had completed its job, which now leads the way for the PTA to move forward to secure a modern, well-equipped and much-needed memorial to the men who served and gave their lives in World War II.

Attending yesterday's confab were W. E. Yeager and Merle Deardoff, representing the Chamber of Commerce; William Rice, August Karlson, and Roy Krebs, representing the borough council;

Mrs. Walter Mather, Mrs. Wendell Kahle, and Mrs. August Bova, from the Parent-Teachers Association. Also in attendance was Sidney Blackman, borough solicitor. John Stewart, chairman of the commerce committee, was unable to attend.

The original committee asserted that neither the borough council nor the chamber of commerce would interfere with the project, but that both bodies would assist the undertaking and aid it in any way possible.

Mrs. Walter Mather and Mrs. August Bova announced today that a special meeting of the PTA council will be held at two o'clock Monday afternoon. They also stated that, at this meeting, a committee will be appointed which will undertake the necessary procedures. Legal action will be necessary, and plans will be formed, including a procedure to solicit the necessary funds. The cost estimated for the total project is $145,000.

Immediate action will take place and swift undertakings begun.

Rival Candidates for Mayor Both Hate Pittsburgh Smog

Pittsburgh, Oct. 24.—(P)—Pittsburgh's rival candidates for the mayoralty, Robert N. Waddell and David L. Lawrence, stand shoulder to shoulder on one issue—they both hate smog.

Addressing a rally last night in Stephen Foster Memorial, they told 500 citizens that no matter who is next mayor of Pittsburgh he will strive to eliminate smog and smog from the city.

Lawrence declared "the smog control ordinance we have on the statute books of Pittsburgh is the best in the country" and Waddell said the ordinance "if properly enforced, should go a long way to correct the smog problem."

Meanwhile, Harry Black, president of the Philadelphia Industrial Union Council (CIO), said he would call a board meeting today to act on a request by International Representative Kazimir Miller that all CIO unions in the city declare a "labor holiday" in support of the strike.

Community Agencies Council
Held Its Quarterly Meeting

The regular quarterly meeting of the Council of Community Agencies was held in the small court room of the County Court House last evening at eight o'clock. Following the reading of the minutes by the secretary-treasurer, Mary Church, Robert Dunham, president, called on Nelson Johnson for a report of the directory committee. He announced that his committee had completed its work, the information compiled for Judge Wade's committee, and that the directory was in the hands of the printers and would soon make an appearance.

Ralph Wagner, in reporting for Paul Harrington, told of the meeting of the committee on coordination of youth activities and that a meeting yesterday morning had seen the clearing of dates on the community calendar through January. All people in the community are urged to make use of the community calendar, both in scheduled events and choosing a new time for postponed events. The calendar is maintained at the Y. M. C. A., which can be reached by phoning 1000.

The nominating committee announced through Mrs. H. L. Banghart that a successor to Dr. Rosensweig's place on the executive committee has not been obtained as yet, but the plan called for procuring a returned veteran.

Mrs. D. E. Conaway, membership chairman, presented one name for individual membership in the council, that of Warren Miller.

Mrs. Albert Rockwell told of the Pennsylvania Welfare Conference to be held here at the Y. W. C. A. on Friday of this week, and that it would be a great inspiration to each and every one interested in any phase of welfare.

A request from the Children's Aid Society, presented by Mrs. E. V. Lesser, asked the council to authorize a survey of Warren County's needs for family case work. The council went on record as accepting the request provided it did not incur more than incidental expense. The Family Welfare Association of America is to be asked for assistance.

Continuing the presentation of the scope of work of member agencies, that of the County Commissioners and ex-officio members of the council, was presented by Alexander Flick, Jr. He gave a picture of the role played by the County Commissioners in welfare work during the past fifty years. Warren County Commissioners have a special responsibility in the care of funds held in trust by them. Their success in the area was of great interest, particularly in the relationship to the maintenance of the Hoffman Home and the Rouse Hospital and in turn the citizens obligations as tax payers. Warren is classified as a seventh class county. County commissioners, Peter Ostergard and George Seavy, answered other questions which resulted in council members understanding much about the jobs to which the community has assigned them.

HORSE RACING HELPS STATE

Comment has been made in Pennsylvania in months past relative to the legalizing pari-mutuel betting at the race tracks of the state. Wherever it has been tried it has worked out in a splendid manner and has added greatly to the task of lightening burdens. Millions of tickets on the races are sold in Pennsylvania each year with no return to this state while New York, Delaware and other states wax rich on their share of the pari-mutual wagering. Pennsylvania's State Capitol is honeycombed with ticket sellers and "the horses" hold much attention for the state employees.

Pennsylvanians who wish to see horse racing must travel out of the state to enjoy the sport and seemingly Pennsylvania folk are being discriminated against due to the old blue laws in effect in this Commonwealth.

A recent editorial in a California newspaper relative to racing in that state reads as follows:

"California is the number one agricultural state in the union.

"2,000,000 will be distributed this year in premiums and awards at the State, County and District fairs.

"$3,000,000 will be allocated to the various fairs for capital expenses, improvements and additions.

"The fairs get about 65 percent of all the money the state takes from the mutual pools. The University of California gets 16 percent and the California Polytechnic College at San Luis Obispo—founded with race track money and solely supported by it—gets almost 12 1/2 percent.

"Before horse racing with pari-mutuel wagering was legalized, the farmers were getting pretty colored ribbons for prize-winning pigs poultry and produce. Today the awards have a cash value. Even Mom gets a share for her prize pickles and jam.

"Before the return of horse racing, California livestock was averagely far below that of the middle west and eastern states. The money from awards, the encouragement horse racing money has given our livestock industry, has changed all this. Farmers have gone out and purchased the best pure bred stock. This has given the farmer better credit with his banker and the banker better security.

"Before horse racing came back to boost our economic life, there were but five fairs opening regularly. This year there are 68. Next year there will be 77.

"Even the citrus and avocado fairs have been made possible by the state's share in the dollar.

"The youngsters who will be our farmers of tomorrow—the Future Farmers of America and the Four-H Clubs—take all premium money above expenses and put it right back into better livestock, feed and equipment.

"Your race track dollars are making all this possible."

HALLOWE'EN JITTERS

Plagued by thoughts of what prankish youngsters would do to their show windows with soap and candle wax, Kirkwood, Mo., merchants had Hallowe'en jitters, says a well known magazine.

The town's month-old Kiwanis club came up with an idea of organized window decorating that solved Kirkwood's Hallowe'en problem last year, promises to erase those "October blues" for all time.

Merchants turn their windows over to children; school officials supervise the decorating; the Kirkwood Paint Co. provides free water paints that wash off easily; and the Kiwanis Club gives war stamp prizes for the best work of art.

Last year 88 merchants and more than 300 students took part in the window decorating program that started two days before Hallowe'en. On the once-dreaded night, young and old crowded into the downtown area to view the handiwork and watch the judges select the winners. Kirkwood's Hallowe'en property damage hit a new low.

This year 150 merchants have joined the new Hallowe'en move and more than 500 students are taking part. The Kiwanis Club has raised its prize fund from $50 to $100.

The "Kirkwood Hallowe'en Plan" probably will be tried in other towns this year, for Kiwanis Club President Dick Diekroeger has been flooded with scores of requests for information since word of its success spread.

UNDIGNIFIED BUT ADMIRABLE

We can't help indulging in a quick bit of applause for the group of Ohio State sorority girls who set up a "Kiss and Sell" booth at a Columbus, Ohio, movie theatre.

Their idea was to reward every Victory Bond buyer with a kiss. Business must have been good, too, because the alumnae board became disturbed and ordered the girls to desist because it was "undignified."

Perhaps it wasn't strictly up to the moral standards of the sorority, but it was an admirable project for a worthy cause.

Warren Lodge of Moose has endorsed the creation of a recreation area in this section. This order is to be congratulated as being in the forefront of civic movements.

Ceremonial To Honor Scouts' Achievements

The Fall Court of Honor Ceremonial to recognize in a dignified public ceremony the achievements of Boy Scouts have made since June will be held Thursday evening in connection with the Fall Round-Up Rally to be held at Beaty School. It was learned this morning from H. L. Blair, chairman of the Scout Advancement Committee, of the Warren County Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The arrangements for the program of the Court of Honor are nearly completed. The high spot in the program will be the ceremony in which H. L. Banghart, President of Council, will present the Eagle Scout Badges and credentials to James Rock of the North Warren Civic Club Troop No. 13 and to James Christenson and David Swanson of the Ludlow Citizens Troop No. 50.

All Scouts who have completed the work for Second Class, First Class, Merit Badge, Star, and Life Scout Ranks will be recognized with their new badges of rank and certificates of achievement. Every troop in the council will be represented by a large delegation of its personnel, including Scoutmasters, Troop Committeemen and Scouts.

The music for the Court of Honor will be provided by a group of older Scouts under the leadership of F. H. Hetrick.

All Second Class, First Class,

Do you feel headachy and upset due to poorly digested food? To feel cheerful and happy again your food must be digested properly.

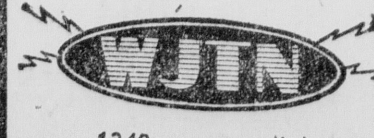

Each day, Nature must produce about two pints of a vital digestive juice to help digest your food. If Nature fails, your food may remain undigested—leaving you headachy and irritable.

Therefore, you must increase the flow of this digestive juice. Carter's Little Liver Pills increase this flow quickly—often in as little as 30 minutes. And, you're on the road to feeling better.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's Little Liver Pills aid digestion after Nature's own order. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills as directed. Get them at any drugstore. Only 25¢.

Advices Loans On Potatoes Of Fall Crop

Producers in Warren County can be sure of receiving support prices for their late-crop potatoes this year, N. E. Dodd, Chairman of the AAA County Committee, said today. He encouraged farmers to take out Commodity Credit Corporation storage loans on their 1945 potato crop.

"Potato producers stand to gain when they take out a CCC loan," Mr. Dodd said. "They know loans protect their income. With a loan, they still have protection, even if the market changes later." Mr.

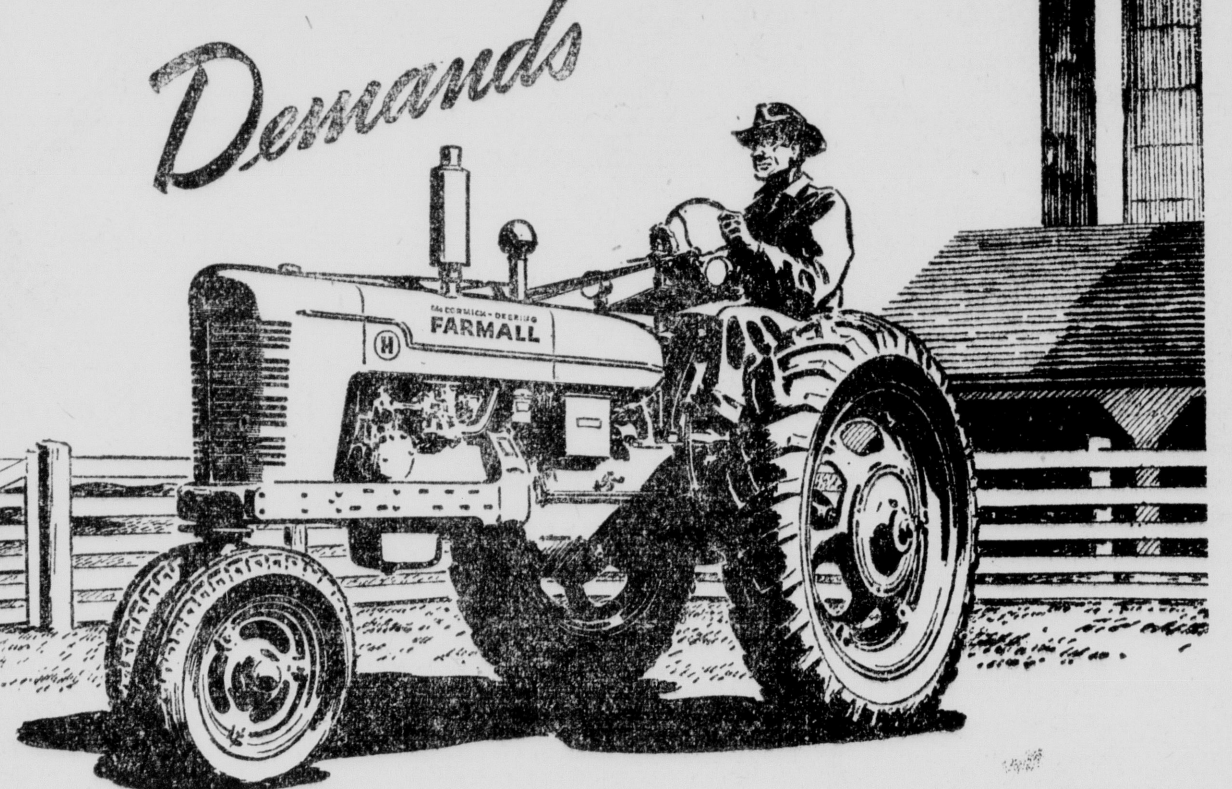

Dodd also pointed out that storing potatoes under loan is one way farmers can help in the orderly marketing of potatoes through normal channels.

At the present time, the Government is aiding the market by purchasing surplus potatoes in heavy producing areas. Since these intermediate potatoes do not store well, they must be used soon after harvesting. Over 480 carloads of intermediate potatoes a week have been diverted to starch, dehydration, canning, relief, and alcohol.

Loans are available to growers, growers' associations, and dealers certified by county AAA committees. Applications for loans may be filed at the county AAA office with a deadline of November 20. Loans will be payable on demand, not later than April 1, 1946.

In the National Assembly of Turkey the president must wear dress clothes and a top hat.

THE RIGHT TRACTOR FOR THE PARTICULAR JOB

THE proverbial Jack-of-all-trades was master of none. The modern world of science and technology passed him by.

The same principle applies to farm tractors. The tractor that does a wide variety of jobs unsatisfactorily can't possibly produce the greatest results at the least cost in any job.

But that's what the farmer—particularly the small operator—has got to do to meet postwar competition: he's got to produce the most food possible with the least effort and, consequently, at the lowest cost.

The farmer with 10 acres in truck crops needs one kind of tractor. The farmer with 100 acres in wheat alone needs another kind—or, as is usually the case, two or more different tractors. The tractor which does a good job on the Great Plains may be useless in the rice territory. And so it goes.

Conditions of climate, the lay of the land, and the character of soils in the different parts of this vast country, together with wide variations in the nature of crops and the size of operations, combine to produce wide differences in the requirements for tractors. Harvester's policy is to meet all these requirements.

That is why Harvester's postwar line includes a great variety of Farmalls and other specialized tractors and attachments rather than a single tractor with a single system of tools. Every tractor in the line was developed after scientific research and testing under actual operating conditions showed the specifications needed for efficiency and economy.

Every Harvester-built tractor is the right machine for its particular job.

Stamp News

ARMY and postal regulations prevented transportation of a first flight covers on the first round-the-world trip of the Air Transport Command's Globemaster, but it now develops that 4,931 souvenir covers were prepared by the A.T.C. and carried on the journey.

All but 25 of these souvenir covers have been turned over to the Washington Community War Fund by Lt. Gen. Harold George of the A.T.C., to be sold as part of the fund-raising campaign. The remaining 25 will be sent by the A.T.C. to persons who find and return meteorological balloons released during the flight.

The covers bear an attractive two-color cachet stating the purpose and route of the flight and are franked with the new 3-cent Army stamp which was placed on sale the day of the takeoff. All were cancelled at Washington within an hour after the flight ended Oct. 4. In addition, each cover has been overprinted with the affidavit over the signature of Gen. George that it was carried on the Globemaster.

Acting on the advice of Washington Philatelists, the Community War Fund will offer the 4,906 covers for sale at $7.50 each, with all proceeds over the cost of mailing to be turned over to the War Fund. Thus purchasers, in addition to securing a cover of historic interest, will also be contributing to the War Fund drive. Covers may be secured by writing to David H. Davenport, Chairman, Globemaster Cover Committee, Washington Community War Fund, 1101 M. Street N.W., Washington 5, D. C.

TWO stamps issued by Ireland last month pay honor both to the Young Ireland Movement and to one of its founders, Thomas Davis. The 2 1/2-pence blue and 6-p purple stamps were placed on sale Sept. 15, one day before the one hundredth anniversary of the death of Davis, who with Charles Gavan Duffy and John Blake Dillon founded the newspaper, The Nation, the organ of the Young Ireland Movement, in 1842. Davis and his fellow patriots sought to unite Ireland and advocated in ardent prose and poetry Ireland's right to freedom as an ancient historic nation. One of Davis' associates was John Purroy Mitchel, whose grandson, John Purroy Mitchel, was mayor of New York in 1913-17.

Designed by R. J. King, the two stamps picture a youth sowing the seeds of freedom (Saisir). In the corners are the coats of arms of the four Irish provinces and on the two sides the inscription in Gaelic "Movement of the Young Irishmen." Leo T. McCauley, Consul General of Ireland at New York, advises that the stamps will be on sale for six months.

REMINDER: Here are the dates of issue for forthcoming U. S. commemoratives:
Navy, Oct. 27, at Annapolis, Md.; Coast Guard, Nov. 10, at New York; Alfred E. Smith, Nov. 26, at New York; Texas Centennial, December; five cent Roosevelt, Jan. 30; Merchant Marine, February.

FIRST day figures on the Army commemorative stamp are: covers cancelled, 392,300; stamps sold, 2,544,092.

KING CHRISTIAN X of Denmark, whose steadfast resistance to the Nazi conquerors of his country was a highlight of the war, celebrates his 75th anniversary this year. To mark the anniversary, Denmark has issued three portrait stamps of its ruler bearing the dates "1870-1945." Values and colors are 10-ore violet, 20-ore red and 40-ore blue. Christian X has ruled Denmark since 1912.

The Harry Doehla Art Competition is offering $10,000 in prizes in a nation-wide contest designed to "encourage young artists and develop their talent and art appreciation", the problem being the creation of an original design in color suitable for use on a greeting card. The card may be for Christmas, birthday, get-well, sympathy, wedding anniversary or congratulations on a new baby and suitable designs might include such subjects as flowers, landscapes, water or snow scenes, rural street scenes, garden scenes, etc. The first national prize is a four-year art school scholarship, with a value of $1,000, plus an allowance of $100 for artist's materials for each of the four school years.

Similarly, second prize covers a two-year scholarship and, third, a one-year scholarship. Cash values of these are $1,400, $700 and $350. State-wide prizes are, first, $100 war bond; second, $50 war bond and, third, $25 war bond. City-wide prizes will be scroll awards for the ten best entries.

A jury of nationally-known artists will select prize winners, under the chairmanship of Miss Virginia Murphy, art director, New York City board of education. The competition is sponsored by Harry Doehla, of Fitchburg, Mass., noted for his sponsorship of talented young people, his establishment of scholarships in public schools and his making available of funds to the Boy Scouts of America for carrying out a special achievement program. He believes that a high school student's artistic talent, both active and latent, can best be developed by such gestures of encouragement as this competition.

Baseball Dodgers Sign Negro Star, Won't Avoid Trouble; Negro Owners Seek Chandler

By SID FEDER
Montreal, Oct. 24.—(P)—Speaking for the Brooklyn ball club, Branch Rickey, Jr., said today the Dodgers may have the alligator y the tail in signing the first Negro player ever admitted to organized baseball, but if trouble's head "we won't avoid it."

Hiring Jackie Robinson, ex-CLA football ace and U. S. Army lieutenant, to do his 1945 infelding for the Dodgers' International league farm—the Montreal Royals—the son of the Brooklyn president predicted it "even may cost the Brooklyn organization a number of ball players."

"But even if some players quit," he Dodge farm system director added as he reviewed the possible reactions of players and fans at the surprise signing here last night, "they'll be back after a year or two in a cotton mill."

Earlier—before coming out flatly with the statement that his father and Royal's president, Hector Racine, "aren't inviting trouble, but won't avoid it"—young Rickey went over with Robinson all that the Negro shortstop's entry into organized baseball might imply. He explained that there might be difficulties for the quiet six-foot, 90-pounder from both players and fans alike in some quarters. He reviewed prejudices that exist in certain sections.

"I realize what I'm going into," Robinson said sincerely. "I also realize how much it means to me, to my race and to baseball. I'm very happy over this chance, and can only say I'll do my very best to come through in every manner."

Brought up from the Kansas City Negro Monarchs, which he joined after leaving the army last spring, Robinson represents a $25,000, three-year hunt by Branch Rickey, Sr., for Negro talent good enough to bring into the Brooklyn system, particularly as high as double-A ball.

According to the word around the Royals ballclub here, he is only out of about a couple of dozen Negro players Rickey's scouts have rounded up after hunting through much of Latin America as well as the United States.

Robinson was brought into Brooklyn last August 29, accepted terms and agreed to sign before November 1, the first contract ever given a Negro player. Just what the terms were no one admitted here last night, but from Racine it was learned the Dodgers also threw in a "good bonus" for Robinson's signature. He will join the Royals next spring when they open training, possibly at Daytona, Fla., if they return to their pre-war workout grounds. A short-stop this year, Robinson explained he's also at home on first or second.

Last night's actual signing came as a complete surprise.

Even Frank Shaughnessy, International League president, who lives here, wasn't "in" on the secret. He heard about it an hour after Robinson signed, and called the Royals' office to learn the details. He couldn't foresee any extra violent reactions.

"After all," he pointed out, "as long as any fellow's the right type and can make good and get along with other players, he can play ball. There's no rule in baseball that says a Negro can't play."

Negro Owners Act
New York, Oct. 24.—(P)—Senator A. B. "Happy" Chandler, who hasn't been getting along too happily, anyway, since he undertook to fill the late Judge Landis' shoes as baseball commissioner, can thank Branch Rickey, Sr., for his latest prospective headache.

Threatening to camp on the senator's doorstep today were the owners of the Kansas City Monarchs, Negro professional baseball team, whose star shortstop, Jackie Robinson, was signed by Rickey last night to a contract with the Brooklyn farm club at Montreal.

"We won't take it lying down," declared co-owner T. Y. Baird of the Monarchs. "Robinson signed a contract with us last year and I feel that he is our property. If Chandler lets Montreal and Brooklyn get by with this he's really starting a mess."

It was a moot question, of course, whether the commissioner actually would be available to the aggrieved Negro owners as a court to which they could carry their complaints, or whether his duties merely called for him to police his own organization.

The reaction of the Monarchs' co-owner was, perhaps, the most interesting obtained to the signing of the first Negro player to a contract in organized ball. It had been generally felt—and no doubt by Rickey, himself—that the revolutionary move would be universally hailed by Negro baseball as the long-sought opening wedge into the big leagues.

President Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators was quick to see the point of Baird's complaint, declaring:

"That is a well established league, and organized baseball shouldn't take their players. The Negro League is entitled to full recognition as a full-fledged baseball organization."

It gave every appearance of being a question that would have to be settled soon if Rickey, as was reported, had lined up some 25

other Negro players besides Robinson for his Brooklyn farm teams.

If there had been any expectation that the announcement of Robinson's signing would rouse a storm of controversy in organized baseball circles, it failed to develop immediately. For the most part owners and league officials preferred not to comment last night.

Eastern Grid Elevens Near "Upset Time"

New York, Oct. 23.—(P)—Eastern football is approaching the showdown stage with Penn, Holy Cross and Columbia in the first row behind the Army and Navy powerhouses.

George Munger's Quakers, currently unbeaten, untied and unscored upon, appear headed for the unofficial Ivy League title, off results to date. Such unpredictable elements as injuries, the affects of playing both West Point and Annapolis and the early November shifts of Navy personnel can easily change all that. Penn has an excellent all-around back in Bob Evans and two speedy operatives in Don Schneider and Bob Deuber.

Stan Koslowski's knee injury may slow up the Holy Cross attack as the Crusaders prepare to meet an under-rated Colgate club. The Red Raiders and the undefeated Temple team are rated the main threats to a perfect record for H. C.

Lou Little's Columbia Lions, probably the biggest surprise of the east, continue to amaze with the long-distance scoring spurts of the freshman touchdown twins, Gene Rossides and Lou Kusserow.

All signs point to an Ivy League "title" game between Penn and Columbia at Franklin Field Nov. 10, but a vastly strengthened Cornell team which has both the Quakers and Lions on its schedule, could upset the appcart.

'44 Game Kill Is High; 23 Hunters Dead

Harrisburg, Oct. 24.—(P)—Twenty-three hunters died and 209 were wounded in killing nearly 12,000,000 pounds of game last year, President Ross L. Leffler of the State Game Commission announced last night.

The hunting casualties were the lowest since 1936, when commission figures showed 23 were killed and 159 wounded.

The 1944 bag, a little under 1943 in terms of total weight, topped the preceding year in numbers. Last year's kill amounted to 4,492,340 animals or fowl as compared with 4,288,168.

By far the greatest kill was among rabbits, with 2,702,395 bagged last year, as compared with 2,572,993. The deer kill was up to 28,411 antlered males, as against 23,931. However, 14,951 antlerless deer were shot in the 1943 open season, which was not repeated in 1944.

Other increases last year were in the kill of squirrels, up to 859,399 as compared with 779,745; racoons, 49,746 as against 45,329; wild turkeys, 2,849, to 2,297; quail, 47,969, to 41,373; woodcocks, 16,400 to 15,588; Grackles (blackbirds), 39,175 to 25,764, and woodchucks, 171,722 to 157,202.

The bag fell off among bears, down to 295 as compared with 367 in 1943; hares, 3,665 from 3,716; Hungarian partridges, 206 from 250; ruffed grouse, 101,224 from 117,219; ringneck pheasants, 414,797 from 431,735; shorebirds, 1,371 from 1,779, and waterfowl, 52,716 from 53,988.

More than half of the accidents, Leffler reported, occurred on clear days, with the victim in another hunter's line of fire. Most of the victims, and those responsible, were adults. More than 87 per cent of the accidents happened during the small game season, and nearly 82 per cent were shot-gun wounds.

On the basis of 607,338 hunting licenses issued last year commission calculated that there was one fatal accident for every 26,406 licenses, and one non-fatal shooting for every 2,906 licenses.

Harrisburg, Oct. 24.—(P)—Olga's uncanny knack of picking winners was too much for Allentown's Canaries... their 20-game winning streak was smashed and once more Olga is the favorite pick-up girl of Philadelphia, N. J. Charley Reilly, veteran sports editor of the Eastern Express discovered Olga... In fact she is the Express office girl... Two years ago when Allentown boasted of another winning streak they went to Philadelphia to play in the rain... Olga picked Philadelphia to win.

This time the Canaries were again odds-on favorites... But Olga picked Philadelphia... Now if she will tell us who is to win the Easton-Bethlehem game we'll be happy.

Runs 108 Yards
Adams Township made it seven straight by winning from Portage Township, 26-0... The feature of the game was a run of 108 yards for a touchdown... which should set a new record for the current season... The chap who grabbed the ball eight yards behind his own goal-line was Julius (Unk) Gmeiner (CQ).

Ranks Getting Thin
The ranks of the state's unbeaten elevens are slowly but surely being cut down... Available records show only two major high school elevens with unbeaten, untied, and unscored upon records... One is at Donora where last year's WPIAL title-holders hope to repeat... They have chalked up 16 in a row over two years... Bedford has the other perfect record with seven straight this year, the latest over Mercersburg Academy, 26-0.

Other outstanding teams that have not tasted defeat are Huntingdon, State College, Curwens-

Penna. Welfare Conference Endorsed By Local Groups

That much constructive good will come from the Penna. Welfare conference to be held at the YWCA activities building Friday, from 10 to 4, and open to the public, is evidenced by the enthusiastic support given it by Warren's many social agencies. "We Are Coming" seems to be their slogan, with emphasis on board members and social workers.

Mrs. Carl Lundahl, president of the YWCA, says: "We are very pleased to be hostess to the Penna. Welfare Conference. Reservations for lunch are already above expectations, and we know this together is one of which Warren may well be proud."

Horace Cray, president of the Warren County Crippled Children's Committee: "We are interested in welfare work in Warren county and expect to have one or more board members at the conference Friday."

Mrs. Russell Elliott, president of the Children's Aid: "I want to stress the importance of the morning sessions. Mrs. Denman, the speaker, is one of the most fascinating and stimulating personalities I have ever been privileged to meet. I hope every one attending the conference will make a special point to hear Mrs. Denman at 10:30 Friday morning. The Children's Aid board is planning 100 per cent attendance."

George Hachin, chief of police: "The Warren Police Department is very eager to see Warren county welfare work extended and improved. Many of the cases which reach us are young people from unhappy homes where there is lack of parental care. We are 100 per cent in favor of the conference Friday and will attend."

George Seavy, chairman of Warren County Commissioners: "We feel that the Welfare Conference is an excellent thing for Warren county, and we plan to attend the meetings Friday."

Mrs. W. E. Cooney, Grand Regent of the Catholic Daughters: "It is cheering to note that Warren county is awakening to a need for more coordinated social work. The Catholic Daughters are glad to have a part in the Penna. Welfare conference Friday and know it will be of great value to them."

Rev. J. C. Wygant, president of the Warren County Board of Assistance: "We are cooperating in every way to make this, Warren county's first welfare conference, a lasting success. There is a need for greater understanding among welfare groups here, and we believe a discussion, led by the finest speakers in the state, will do much to create it."

Ralph Wagner, Y. M. C. A. secretary: "We are very pleased with the excellent program planned for the Penna. Welfare conference. Our staff members consider it a very fine thing. We are urging our busy board members to attend."

Mrs. Henrietta Bloom, president of the Warren Relief: "I hope every member of the Warren Relief board will attend. It is only through group discussions with state leaders and other Warren county agencies, that old worn-out methods can be discarded and new, progressive ways be substituted."

Miss Thurston, of the Visiting Nurses' Association: "We feel the Friday conference will be of great benefit and inspiration to the workers. When groups get together like this we all get new thoughts and ideas, we exchange ideas and ways of doing things. We keep going ahead."

Mrs. Vance Weld, commissioner of the Warren County Girl Scouts: "We are alive to the need of better home influences throughout Warren county, and are eager to learn more of the scope of state and county welfare work, so we can be in a better position to cooperate."

This conference is sponsored by the Warren County Council of Community Agencies.

Governor Martin Orders the Guard Retained Full Strength

Ordering the Pennsylvania Guard to be maintained at full strength, Governor Martin, in a statement today, said:

"Although the war has ended, the purposes and functions of the Guard have in no way diminished. 'Never in the history of the Commonwealth has there been such necessity for a strong internal security force, immediately ready for any contingency. The responsibilities of the Guard are today of highest importance.'

"In the inevitable period of dislocation that follows even victorious war, Pennsylvania has a big job to do in reorganizing to peacetime activity, and our citizens are depending on the officers and men of the Guard to keep the Commonwealth fully protected and self-sufficient."

The Governor had high praise for the Guard's record of service and effectiveness, which he said was fully in accord with the traditions of the 28th Division. In the dark days of war, when subversive activity, or even a flash airborne invasion was possible, the Guard stood ready to defend our industries and homes.

"It must be just as ready now," Governor Martin said, "to resist active disorder of any nature and maintain the principles of law, order and freedom within our boundaries. With the active support of the War Department, the Guard today is one of the strongest and best equipped in the country, but there is still need for experienced men, preferably discharged soldiers, to augment its personnel."

Call Boy Scout Training Valuable to Navy Men

Present and former Boy Scouts throughout the nation will join in the observance of Navy Day, Saturday, Oct. 27.

The value of Boy Scout training to the men of America's naval forces is told in messages received by the Boy Scouts of America.

Navy Secretary James Forrestal says: "The strength of democracy is shown in no better way than in the work of the Boy Scouts of America. The personnel of our Navy consists to a considerable degree of former Scouts. It has been a lesson to the totalitarian states of the world to witness how the Scouts, without regimentation, have organized to aid in the defeat of our enemies through wholehearted cooperation in home-front enterprises in support of our war effort. The nation is proud of you!"

Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King, Commander in Chief, U. S. Fleet and Chief of Naval Operations, says:

"The value of Boy Scout training has been shown again and again among the men who make up the United States Navy. The qualities of leadership, patriotism, self-discipline and eagerness to learn which are instilled into every Scout have paid dividends in efficiency in our fleet. Together the Boy Scouts of America and the United States Navy are turning out good citizens—the future leaders of our peacetime world."

Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, Commander, First Fleet and Commander in Chief, Pacific Fleet, says:

"In the Pacific Ocean Area, particularly, those who have had the benefit of Boy Scout training in pioneering, field craft, and the lore of living in the out-of-doors, were better equipped to win out over the enemy and the elements. All our fighting forces owe a debt to the leadership of this great movement—to those men giving voluntarily and generously of their time and talents to maintain Scouting as a strong and beneficial influence in our national life."

FIRST STRIKE VOTE INVOLVING HALF MILLION AUTO WORKERS STAGED AT GENERAL MOTORS

Ballot Favoring Work Stoppage to Enforce CIO Union Demands for 30 Per Cent Wage Rate Increase Appears Certain

SPOKESMAN PREDICTS BUT A LIGHT TURNOUT

BULLETIN
Washington, Oct. 24—(AP)—The government moved toward a decision on national wage-price policy today, spurred by the start of strike-voting among 500,000 auto workers. President Truman arranged to confer at 3 p. m. with members of the Reconversion Advisory Board, whose membership takes in topflight spokesmen for management and organized labor. The board was called into special session at the White House this morning to debate a revision of the reconversion wage-price program.

By the Associated Press
The first of three strike votes involving some half-million workers in the automobile industry's "Big Three" was held today as employees of General Motors Corporation balloted in a federally-conducted election costing an estimated $250,000.

A vote favoring a work stoppage to enforce the CIO-United Automobile Workers' demands for a 30 per cent wage rate increase appeared certain, even to corporation officials, but a union spokesman asserted that a strike would not necessarily follow the election.

He predicted a light turnout of GM's 300,000 employees, but sufficient to make a strike legal. Results will be announced by the National Labor Relations Board, probably late tomorrow. Union spokesmen predicted 90 per cent of the voters would approve a strike.

The ballot held the center of attention along the nation's labor front, and will be followed by a vote tomorrow among Chrysler Corp. employees, and among Ford Motor Co. workers on Nov. 7. Across the country labor disputes kept about 225,000 men and women away from work, a slight drop in the last 24 hours.

As workers voted, officials of General Motors and the union resumed their wage conference, but there were no indications of a settlement.

The strike of motion picture workers in Hollywood, which has been marked by increased violence in recent weeks, was placed before the AFL executive council in Cincinnati today for consideration. Eric Johnston, chief of the Motion picture producers' representatives, and Donald Nelson, independent producers' representative, were to appear before the council as spokesmen for the industry.

Meanwhile, in Hollywood, yesterday's renewal of fighting between auto-strikers and pickets resulted in injury to some 50 persons and the arrest of 13 persons. Studios have appealed to the courts to halt the mass picketing, which has resulted in curtailment of production at some studios.

Service in Chicago's elevated line was scheduled to be halted for two hours today as some 4,300 AFL operating employees planned a work stoppage between 1 and 3 p. m. CDT in protest over a dispute relating to retroactive pay.

In Miami, Fla., nearly 2,000 Pan-American Airways maintenance employees were idle after a sit-down strike in protest against what CIO union spokesmen said were violations by the company of a preunion contract agreement. Flights, however, continued on schedule.

In New York, some 800 maintenance and mechanical workers of American Airlines and its subsidiaries were out today.

Will Move State Arsenal To "Gap"

Harrisburg, Oct. 24—(AP)—Plans for moving the state department of military affairs and the state arsenal to the Indiantown Gap military reservation have been approved, Governor Martin announced today.

A new stone building, estimated to cost $200,000 will house the department on a hilltop overlooking the reservation from the Harper's Tavern entrance. The arsenal facilities will be installed in the utilities areas.

No work will be done before next spring, Martin told a news conference, but it need not await completion of the Gap by the war department. The government took over the reservation before Pearl Harbor, for training of troops, and now is using it as a separation center.

"The Gap" eventually will revert to its status of training grounds for the Pennsylvania National Guard.

Martin said the moving plans were approved at a meeting yesterday by the reservation commission, the State Army Board and a group of officers planning reorganization of the guard.

TELEPHONES FOR ALL

Philadelphia, Oct. 24—(AP)—A state-wide program to provide telephones for all persons wanting them—condition prevented by wartime shortages—has been put into operation by the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, says Carl R. Freehaver, vice president and general manager.

Rival Candidates for Mayor Both Hate Pittsburgh Smog

Pittsburgh, Oct. 24—(AP)—Pittsburgh's rival candidates for the mayoralty, Robert N. Waddell and David L. Lawrence, stand shoulder to shoulder on one issue they both hate smoke.

Addressing a rally last night in Stephen Foster Memorial, they told 500 citizens that no matter who is next mayor of Pittsburgh he will strive to eliminate smoke and smog from the city.

Lawrence declared "the smoke control ordinance we have on the statute books of Pittsburgh is the best in the country" and Waddell said the ordinance "if properly enforced, should go a long way to correct the smoke problem."

Labor Holiday Is Threat In Philly

Philadelphia, Oct. 24—(AP)—Strikers at SKF Industries, Inc., reinforced by steel-helmeted shipyard workers and carrying American flags, turned back automobiles of company officials trying to drive through their lines into the plant today.

Company spokesmen said they were going to seek an injunction against members of Local 2808, United Steelworkers of America (CIO), in an attempt to prevent picketing at the plant, strike-bound for three weeks.

Police Captain Edward O'Malley reported a third picket was injured in skirmishes this morning. Two were hurt yesterday.

Meanwhile, Harry Block, president of the Philadelphia Industrial Union Council (CIO), said he would call a board meeting today to act on a request by International Representative Kazimir Miller that all CIO unions in the city declare a "labor holiday" in support of the strike.

Philadelphia Appeal Heard By President

Washington, Oct. 24—(AP)—A delegation of Pennsylvanians seeking establishment of the United Nations headquarters at Philadelphia presented their case to President Truman today.

They told the president that Philadelphia is the ideal location not only because of the city's historical significance in the founding of American independence and its reputation as a city of "brotherly love," but because they said it is nearer to more United Nations capitals than other aspirants.

The group was accompanied to the White House by Senators Guffey and Myers, Pennsylvania Democrats, delegates said they had a pleasant and interesting conference but that Mr. Truman did not commit himself.

The president took the position, they said, that neither he nor Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., American representative to the United Nations Preparatory Commission, should favor one American city over another.

Dr. Robert Johnson, president of Temple University who acted as spokesman, said the delegation was given the same advice the president has given applicants of other cities about how to present their invitations.

End of Shoe Rationing Is Expected Soon

Washington, Oct. 24—(AP)—Tentative plans call for an end of shoe rationing either Oct. 28 or Nov. 1, it was learned today.

Government officials also have considered the possibility of terminating the program earlier if these plans became generally known.

These are other developments and prospects on the rationing front:

1. OPA has decided to cut butter ration values from 12 points a pound to eight. It will announce this tomorrow.

2. Passenger tire rationing may be ended late in December.

3. Truck tires are slated to come off the list by late November.

Choice of a date for ending shoe rationing is expected to be made today or tomorrow by OPA and War Production Board officials.

"At this time," said one official who asked anonymity, "discussions definitely have boiled down to picking one of two dates. This could change, but it doesn't seem likely."

October 28—next Sunday—is advocated by those who feel that termination of the program over the week-end would give dealers a chance to get ready for unrationed buying.

Those who favor November 1 believe it would be a good idea to wind up the program at the start of a calendar month.

In either case, present plans call for no announcement until the eve of the effective date.

The decision to scrap the program is based on official estimates that shoe production now will close the 28,000,000 pairs a month, the goal set as the end of the shortage.

It has climbed to this from a rate of around 23,000,000 a month at the end of September.

As for butter, release by the army of 80,000,000 pounds is the big factor behind the imminent reduction of point values.

Nazi Prisoners In Russia Ill Treated

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
Berlin, Oct. 24—(AP)—British authorities today quoted German war prisoners liberated by the Russians as saying that of approximately 100,000 Nazi troops captured at Stalingrad barely 6,000 are still alive.

The others have died in Soviet prison work camps or in transit on trains which have 200 to 300 corpses aboard when they arrive at Frankfurt-on-Oder, the prisoners were quoted as saying.

Capt. J. G. Johnson of Oxford, Eng., commandant of the Invaliden Strasse Transit Camp where the bulk of these discharged war prisoners from the east are received, said he believed their reports are "not exaggerated."

OLDEST VETERAN DIES

Urges Universal Military Training

(NEA Telephoto)
Legislation requiring one year of military training of every male American was asked by President Truman as he addressed, above, a joint session of congress. House Speaker Sam Rayburn sits on the rostrum in the background.

Congress Is In No Mood For Action on Universal Training

Washington, Oct. 24—(AP)—An uncertain congress held up a moistened finger for the winds of public reaction today before tackling President Truman's universal military training program.

Brought up short against a problem many aren't ready to meet, legislators appeared to be separating into three groups:

1. Those willing to approve, lock, stock and barrel, Mr. Truman's proposal that a year's training be given all physically able young men while they are between the ages of 17 and 20. This appeared to be a minority group.

2. Those who want a modified training program which won't disrupt young America's education. This seemed to take in the great body of middle-rollers.

3. Those who oppose any form of compulsion, think volunteer military training will meet the nation's needs. They form another minority group.

Leaders probably wished President Truman hadn't brought up the matter at this time. There was no measure on hand designated as an administration bill to carry out his plan.

Senate Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky.) said he didn't know when any action might be taken. Neither house nor senate military committees made any move.

White House advisers were quoted as second hand as having said Mr. Truman had decided to take his stand and let the political ships fall where they may.

Advisers reportedly think universal training may be the chief issue in the 1946 congressional campaign if the legislators don't act.

The president was represented as wanting no compromise of his proposal that every young man be tagged for a year of government instruction, except those physically unfit.

Capitol Hill's general interpretation was that Mr. Truman had decided power is going to do most of the talking in world affairs for some time to come.

Legislators thought he had come to this conclusion after long conversations with Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, and Secretary of State Byrnes, just back from the disappointing five-day trip to Moscow.

Urges Universal Military Training

Washington, Oct. 24—(AP)—Directors of Japan's biggest multi-million dollar family monopoly, prodded by the stigma of being linked with the war effort, wrestled today with reorganization—while the harassed government prepared to beg for outside aid to meet a food crisis.

The problem before the directors of Mitsui, a company dating back to 1873, was what to do with holdings which are frowned on under the present setup by General MacArthur.

The problem before Welfare Minister Hitoshi Ashida was how to feed the people through the critical months of November and December until transportation deficiencies are overcome to permit adequate distribution of the currently harvested rice crop. Ashida said his government plans to negotiate with the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

American occupation interest was focused on the visit of a war department official from Washington. Little was being said about the conferences of Joan J. McCloy, assistant secretary of war, although these already have included a meeting with MacArthur.

McCloy may have brought word on the off-rumored possibility of MacArthur making his first visit to the United States since before the war.

Mitsui directors, it was learned authoritatively, are discussing such drastic moves as the retirement of 30 Mitsui families and the liquidation of their huge stock holdings. No definite decision has been reached, contrary to premature reports put out by Domei Agency.

However, a decision is expected soon on the basis of policies determined in Washington. American authorities both here and in Washington are being advised fully on the discussions.

Mitsui Honsia was formed last year succeeding a similar holding company with interests ranging from flour manufacture to heavy industry. The giant house of Mitsui is held together by an intricate and unique charter system which grew from a small dry goods store started by the family's founder in 1873.

Mitsubishi Company, Ltd., another multi-million monopoly, was dissolving partially but its managing director made it clear that the executives who directed its war industries expected to hold on to their key jobs.

In an interview with The Associated Press, Welfare Minister Ashida said reports that several millions in Japan might die of starvation were "exaggerated" but he did emphasize the next two months would be crucial.

PITTSBURGH BARMEN THREATEN TO STRIKE

Pittsburgh, Oct. 24—(AP)—Bartenders in eight leading hotels will strike early in November unless their pay is raised from $43.37 to $50 a week, L. H. Sarrieks, business manager of the AFL Bartenders Union Local, said today.

Thomas F. Troy, president of the Pittsburgh Hotels Association, declared bartenders' tips frequently are at least the equivalent of their wages.

Troy said the bar men had agreed not to strike before expiration of a 30-day strike notice. Sarrieks said the 30 days would be up Nov. 4.

Affected would be 54 men who tensor bar in the Fort Pitt, Henry, Keystone, Pittsburgh, Roosevelt, Schenley, Webster Hall and William Penn Hotels.

VOTE REGISTRATION PROBE IS CONTINUED

Pittsburgh, Oct. 24—(AP)—Whether state police investigating registration in Pittsburgh reported to Allegheny County Republican Chairman James F. Malone, Jr., and got their orders from him may be cleared up Friday at a meeting in County Commissioner John J. Kane's office.

Kane, who filed the accusations against the state police with Governor Edward Martin, said he got his information from two Democratic state senators, Joseph M. Barr and John R. Dent.

Kane yesterday informed Col. C. M. Wilhelm, head of the state police, that Barr and Dent have indicated willingness to meet with Wilhelm Friday in Kane's office.

Malone issued a complete denial of Kane's accusations.

Chicago Woman Gets Third Divorce In Year

Chicago, Oct. 24—(AP)—Mrs. Buelah Leggett, 31, obtained a divorce yesterday—shedding her fifth husband since her first marriage 15 years ago, and her third in the last year.

"Yes," she told reporters, "I expect to get married again. There's no shortage of men, but there is a shortage of good men—that's for sure."

Her last divorce was obtained before Circuit Judge Elmer J. Schnackenberg from Otto Leggett, 33, a railroad worker, whom she charged with cruelty. They were married last March.

Man Sought In Rifle Death Is Still Missing

Uniontown, Oct. 24—(AP)—State police today began a systematic search of all beehive coke ovens and other hiding places for 72-year-old Blair Kreiger, Spanish-American war veteran, wanted for questioning in the rifle death of one man and the serious wounding of another.

Sgt. Paul T. Engle said the elderly man fled from home Monday night after the shooting and that efforts to find him were unsuccessful. John Molchen's wife died in 1940. They had 10 children, two of whom are overseas with the U. S. Army.

Steelworkers Committee To Meet Friday

Pittsburgh, Oct. 24—(AP)—Rejection by U. S. Steel Corp. of employees' demands for a $2-a-day pay boost brought a call for a meeting Friday of the CIO-United Steelworkers of America policy committee.

Philip Murray, president of both the USW and the CIO, asked the committee to meet here "to authorize such actions as the situation may require."

Benjamin F. Fairless, president of U. S. Steel, said the corporation could not grant the increase because of the government's wage stabilization policy and the existing ceilings on steel products.

Fairless declared: "Under present OPA ceiling prices, which are little above the quoted prices for steel before the war, the huge increases in labor and other costs since 1940 have brought us to the point where we are today selling a great majority of our steel products at less than cost."

U. S. Steel President Murray issued a statement in which he declared the U. S. Steel's rejection statement was "replete with distortions and absurdities."

Murray added what was interpreted as a word of warning to steelworkers to await action of their policy committee.

Murray said the national pay envelope is shrinking by $200,000,000 a year and said the "substantial raise of $2 a day" is needed to keep the wheels of industry turning.

HUNGER STRIKE IN PRISON IS HALTED

Philadelphia, Oct. 24—(AP)—Convicts at Eastern Penitentiary here were eating regularly today after a second hunger strike in two weeks ended.

The first group of 13 hunger strikers quit a 15-day fast Sunday because they did not get the same privileges as other prisoners.

MILLIONS IN JAPAN FACE STARVATION

Harassed Government Prepares to Beg for Outside Aid to Meet Food Crisis

MONOPOLY DISSOLVING

By RUSSELL BRINES

NORWAY'S ARCH TRAITOR IS PUT TO DEATH FOR DEALING WITH NAZIS DURING THE WAR

Only Witnesses To Execution of Hitler Puppet Are Unidentified Member of Prosecution, Clergyman and Officer in Charge

SUPREME COURT FAILS TO RECOMMEND REPRIEVE

By NED NORDNESS
Oslo, Oct. 24—(AP)—Vidkun Quisling, Norway's arch traitor, was executed by a firing squad before dawn today, paying the final price for dealing with an enemy his king and countrymen defied throughout the bitter years of the war.

The greatest secrecy surrounded the execution, a foreign affairs spokesman said.

Quisling was awakened in his cell at about 2 a. m. (8 p. m. Tuesday, EST) and rushed quickly before the firing squad of 10 Norwegian military police. The only witnesses were an unidentified member of the state prosecution, a clergyman and the officer who gave the order to fire.

Anneaus Schjoedt, state prosecutor who presented the case against the pallid former puppet dictator, and Henrik Bergh, Quisling's defense lawyer, said they had not been notified in advance that Quisling was to be executed.

The Norwegian embassy in London announced that Quisling was shot at 2:40 a. m., and quoted a statement by the Royal Norwegian minister of justice:

"The sentence of death passed on Vidkun Quisling on the 13th of October by the supreme court in Oslo was carried out by shooting at 2:40 a. m., Norwegian time."

"The supreme court did not recommend a reprieve. Neither could the state prosecutor."

Quisling sent the king a letter in which he pointed out he was innocent but added he did not ask for a reprieve.

Mrs. Quisling, however, requested a reprieve on behalf of her husband. In a cabinet meeting yesterday, the king rejected Mrs. Quisling's petition for mercy and decided the sentence would be carried out.

Quisling's relatives were notified of the execution at 8 a. m. this morning.

In the slightly more than five years he ruled Norway as Adolf Hitler's puppet, the name of Vidkun Abraham Lauritz Quisling became a synonym for traitor.

He was virtually known outside his own country before he emerged in April, 1940, as a collaborator with the German invaders of his homeland. Behind him was a record of political failure and discontent with his profession, the army. Even after the Nazis lifted him to power he could not rely on confidence among his people.

Several amendments will be offered, but George said he didn't think the senate would make any drastic changes in the bill.

An effort may be made to accept some or all of the reductions the house voted in the wartime excise taxes, levied on such things as jewelry, furs, liquor, light bulbs, toilet articles and cabaret checks.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) said it is likely someone will try to repeal taxes imposed in 1942 to control strategic materials.

Community Agencies Council Held Its Quarterly Meeting

The regular quarterly meeting of the Council of Community Agencies was held in the small court room of the County Court House last evening at eight o'clock. Following the reading of the minutes by the secretary-treasurer, Mary Church, Robert Dunham, president, called on Nelson Johnson for a report of the directory committee. He announced that his committee had completed its work, the information compiled for Judge Wade's committee, and that the directory was in the hands of the printers and would soon make an appearance.

Ralph Wagner, in reporting for Paul Harrington, told of the meeting of the committee on coordination of youth activities and that a meeting yesterday morning had seen the clearing of dates on the community calendar through January. All people in the community are urged to make use of the community calendar, both in scheduled events and choosing a new time for postponed events. The calendar is maintained at the Y. M. C. A., which can be reached by phoning 1000.

The nominating committee announced through Mrs. H. L. Banghart that a successor to Dr. Rosenzweig's place on the executive committee has not yet been obtained as yet, but the plan called for procuring of a returned veteran.

Mrs. D. E. Conaway, membership chairman, presented one name for individual membership in the council, that of Warren Miller.

Mrs. Albert Rockwell told of the Pennsylvania Welfare Conference to be held here at the Y. W. C. A. on Friday of this week, and that it would be a great inspiration to each and every one interested in any phase of welfare.

A request from the Children's Aid Society, presented by Mrs. B.

V. Lesser, asked the council to authorize a survey of Warren County's needs for family case work. The council went on record as accepting the request, provided it did not incur more than incidental expense. The Family Welfare Association of America is to be asked for assistance.

Continuing the presentation of the scope of work of member agencies, that of the County Commissioners and ex officio members of the council, was presented by Alexander Plick, Jr. He gave a picture of the role played by the County Commissioners in welfare work during the past fifty years. Warren County Commissioners have a special responsibility in the care of funds held in trust by them. Their success in the area was of great interest, particularly in the relationship of the maintenance of the Hoffman Home and the Rouse Hospital and in turn the citizens obligations as taxpayers. Warren is classified as a seventh class county. County commissioners, Peter Ostergard and George Seavy, answered other questions which resulted in council members understanding much about the jobs to which the community has assigned them.

Plans Progressing For Huge Parade Planned November 24

Plans are going forward rapidly for the parade and celebration planned for Saturday, November 24th, to help promote the Victory Loan drive and open the Christmas shopping season in the borough.

Chairman Eddie Sullivan, of the Retail Merchants' Bureau, has announced that a meeting of the general committee in charge and chairmen of the various sub-committees will be called within a few days when the tentative plans already drafted will be considered. As outlined for discussion by the committee it is proposed to have at least ten bands in the parade, with musical organizations from Warren, Irvine, Sheffield, Youngsville, Clarendon, Russell, Jamestown and perhaps Bradford being invited to participate.

One of the outstanding divisions will be the fire companies. It is proposed to invite companies from Youngsville, Sugar Grove, North Warren, Clarendon, Sheffield, Tidoute, Kane and Frewsburg, and those in charge are hopeful that they will all be represented.

There will be the usual calathumpian division with costumed marchers and prizes offered for the most unique. Prizes will also be given for best turn outs in the fire department division and for the three best floats.

The committee has learned that several local business houses have already started plans to enter floats in the parade. A general invitation is to be extended all organizations and societies to enter marching units. Among those to be presented it is expected, will be the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Veterans organizations, bond organization, labor unions, costumers, war organizations and fraternal and club groups.

Complete details regarding the event will be made public after the meeting of the general committee.

SOCIETY NEWS

Excellent Address On Conference for Clubwomen Mon.

When Miss Olive Williams came here from Buffalo Monday to speak before the Woman's Club, in a program arranged by the Community Service Department, she gave club members some pertinent facts concerning the San Francisco Conference and more recent events which have a direct bearing upon conference problems and plans.

The talk will undoubtedly be one of the highlights of the entire year, proving interesting as well as instructive. The speaker recounted some of her experiences as a consultant to the American delegation, spoke of the conference in general and mentioned some of the speakers in particular. She also talked about the recent London meeting of foreign ministers and seemed a great deal less pessimistic about its "failure" than most writers and speakers. The hour allotted to her talk proved all too short, according to the majority of those who had the privilege of hearing her.

During the meeting, Mrs. W. H. Wright called attention to the first fall meeting of the Dramatic Department to be held next Monday afternoon, when the guest speaker will be Miss Jane Ludgate, of Edinboro State Teachers College.

The table was beautifully decorated with a large centerpiece of gold and white pompons, flanked with gold colored candles. The honor guests, Mrs. Ethel Dunn, Mrs. Eleanor Armstrong, Mrs. Eva Humiston and Mrs. Josephine Wozniak, were presented with corsages of golden pompons and gifts, including their membership cards for the coming year.

A few words of welcome were given by Mrs. Helen Mason, president of the Auxiliary, followed by an invocation by the chaplain, Mrs. Marie Belton. At the close of the dinner, two readings were given by Miss Meredith Jones, "The Painter" and "The Gusher," and Mrs. Margaret Drivas, accompanied by Mrs. Campbell sang two selections "My Hero" and a selected piece.

In behalf of the Gold Star Mothers, Mrs. Humiston, gave a few words of thanks.

Oil City Boy Missing Three Years Is Safe

Oil City, Oct. 24.—(AP)—An Oil City soldier who was missing for more than three years and recently was liberated from a Japanese prison camp today was revealed to have been one of 12 Americans who escaped from Batavia in two sailing boats.

A release from the 93rd Division, Morotai, said Pte. Clyde A. Rearick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Quay H. Rearick, with his companions battled stormy seas for 30 days, only to be captured when natives reported seeing their boats, and turning them over to the Japanese. His anxious family still awaits its first direct word from Clyde, who was quoted in a War Department telegram received Oct. 8 as saying "be home soon. Am okay. In Manila." That message was their first indication that Clyde, who had been missing so long, was still alive.

The War Department declared in Washington today it did not know Rearick's exact whereabouts, but that he would ordinarily land on the west coast.

Rearick had questioned the department after reading the army release which said Major Ike Ouchi, Jap commander of the camp where Clyde was a prisoner, was charged with inflicting inhuman treatment. During 36 months of captivity, 400 persons died of malnutrition, 16 Australians were beheaded, and Americans were hanged with wire, by the wrists, and flogged, the army declared.

Bag Rifled On Bus; Articles Of Dress Taken

Ruth Huckabone, of Tiona, and Miss Delores Gray, of this city, reported to police this morning following the arrival of the bus from Pittsburgh that a bag owned by them had been rifled during the trip. The girls reported that two slips, a jumper dress, pajamas, box of candy, a hat and hose had been removed from the bag. The theft took place some time during the night prior to arrival of the bus in this city.

Police telephoned to Jamestown and the driver of the bus reported persons seated near the bag were evidently the suspects and that they left the bus at Warren. The group under suspicion was composed of a man, a woman with a baby, a boy and a girl. Police are searching for them.

Officers on patrol last night smelled smoke near the City Lunch and made an investigation calling out firemen and an investigation was made of the Baker rooming house and the Grotzinger restaurant. It finally developed that the odor was coming from the City Lunch, where some spiced ham wrapped in wax paper was being burned.

A small accident near the post-office was also investigated this morning. A truck of the Bell Telephone Company pulled out from the curb striking another car. Little damage was done.

Chaplain Will Speak Tonight Before Moose

The Rev. Donzel Payne, Protestant chaplain of Mooseheart, the Child City of the Moose order, arrived in the city last night and this evening will give an address at the special meeting of the order which has been called. The Rev. Payne spoke this noon before the Warren Kiwanis Club, telling of Mooseheart, the great Child City of the Moose.

This evening at 6:30 a dinner in his honor will be served at the Blue and White Restaurant by officers of the local lodge and this will be an enjoyable affair.

The meeting this evening will be a brief one after which the wives and girl friends of the members of the order will attend and hear the address of the Rev. Payne, who is making a tour of this section telling of the work of the lodge at Mooseheart.

Beyond Tomorrow

By Helen R. Woodward

"HELLO, Anne!" Catherine Lowell cried, extending a white hand heavy with rings. "John has told me so much about you. I'm glad you've finally come to see me!"

You could tell she meant it too! Anne had never beheld so much completely natural charm and grace. She couldn't help staring.

"You mean—you're Major Lowell's mother?"

Catherine laughed in delight. "Why of course! John, you nitwit, don't just stand there! Can't you see Anne is the kind of girl who should have a formal introduction? My dear, didn't he tell you he had a mother?"

"He didn't tell me anything. He just said he was taking me to see someone interesting. Do you think I'm crazy for just doing what he said without question?"

"Oh, no, not at all!" Catherine assured her. "He's high-handed like that. Been bossing me since he was in the cradle!"

John was lighting his pipe. "Interesting—being discussed as if one weren't present! I meant to explain. Anne, when I got a chance. But you two have been hating the conversation back and forth like a baseball. Well, now that we're all acquainted, let's sit down."

Anne felt light-hearted and free and utterly at home. Completely charmed, too, by Catherine Lowell's gaiety. Her mind was filled with curiosity concerning this house and its occupants. Funny she had not thought of John Lowell as being anchored to a family and home. What was the story connected with the big, almost ugly red-haired woman and her wheel chair?

Strangely enough she seemed to know a great deal about Anne and kept the conversation lively with her interested chatter and comments. Anne realized in amazement that John had discussed her quite thoroughly with his mother and again wondered what his interest in her was.

They had dinner by candlelight, the radiance playing softly on the dark, highly-polished old table, the silver bowl of yellow roses. An ancient negro served them deftly in stony-faced fashion. In truth the whole evening seemed like a page out of a romantic novel. The food was well prepared but quite simple.

After dinner they played the favorite records of each of them, then got into a discussion of the post-war situation and politics in general, during which John and his mother exchanged stinging verbal blows in a purely friendly way. You could see that in spite of genuine differences of opinion they adored and respected each other.

The old negro came in presently to say that the farm manager wanted John to look at a sick mare and Anne and Catherine were left alone in the big, softly-lighted room. They talked easily of many things until finally Catherine said: "It's a good sign—John's bringing you here. I've been pretty worried about him since he came home. He wouldn't have brought you if you hadn't meant a great deal to him."

Anne colored to the roots of her hair. She decided it would be better to explain her standing immediately before her hostess got the wrong impression.

"Mrs. Lowell, I'd like for you to know that I'm engaged to marry Wayne McDowell. He left for the navy on Tuesday. I honestly don't know how I happened to be going about with your son. Of course, you know I helped him with his radio scripts."

"And wasn't the broadcast simply splendid?" Catherine cried. "I was so moved I cried like an idiot. So you're engaged to Wayne? Mr. Murray McDowell, quite well? Anne looked at her quickly and Catherine's eyes twinkled. "She's a snob, isn't she? Bluffing to overcome an inferiority complex. I've always said, 'You see, her sister, Wayne's mother, was the pretty one, the popular one. Edna always had to play second fiddle until her sister died. Then when she could finally indulge her thirst for power and importance, it was too much for her. Made a tyrant of her!" She stopped and laughed. "My, what an old gossip I am! But you won't be likely to let her get you down if you can see through her."

It was uncanny how this woman seemed to have found this sore spot and healed it with a soothing touch. Anne realized that she felt much better about Edna McDowell now. Why what Mrs. Lowell had said explained everything so completely! She didn't believe she would ever be intimidated by Wayne's Aunt Edna again. Instead of being formidable she seemed almost pitiable now!

"Well, your engagement needn't make any difference between us two, need it?" Catherine asked. "You see, I like you, Anne. You're a nice person. I'd like for us to be friends."

Anne reached for the big, beautiful white hand. "Of course, we'll be friends!"

"Then you must promise to come to see me often, with or without John. I get rather lonely sometimes, though I wouldn't want John to know. I have few callers—few people I want to be bothered with—a cranky old invalid anyway!"

Anne promised eagerly that she would come again, and then John came back. "It's the mare, Nancy, mother," he said. "I don't believe she's going to make it this time."

Mrs. Lowell was genuinely distressed. "Oh, but we mustn't let anything happen to Nancy. She's having a baby, Anne. You've called the vet John."

"Of course, Mother, don't get excited."

When John had left her at Mrs. Adams' house and Anne ran up to the apartment, she thought at first that Eve had not yet come home. But when she turned on the lamps she saw her, crouched in the big chair by the window. One look at Eve's white, tortured face and Anne's heart froze in apprehension. She saw that Eve, rising slowly to feet, held a yellow stain of paper in her quivering fingers.

Endocrine helps make the face and throat more looking again

What would you give for a younger, more attractive skin of face and throat? Well, for most women, this is possible with ENDOCRINE. This is because ENDOCRINE acts to improve the skin itself, not merely its superficial "look"... improve it to a degree hitherto thought impossible. ENDOCRINE, with its 8-year record of success, contains that great discovery, ACTIVOL**. This ACTIVOL** is an effective, scientific replacement for woman's own natural skin-vitalizing substance. ## Appendicitis

By MULLEN DRUG CO.

If you believe you have any symptoms of appendicitis, the safe and sane thing to do is to consult your physician.

He may find the cause of the pain, ache or disturbance to be a minor ailment, and treat it accordingly. Or he may find appendicitis present. In either event, your having consulted him is a wise move.

It is, of course, a wise move whenever persistent pain of any nature is present. Self-medication is not to be recommended except in the simplest cases, since the doctor is the only one qualified to correctly diagnose any upset.

Should drugs be needed, ask your doctor to recommend a good drug.

'44 Game Kill Is High: 23 Hunters Dead

Harrisburg, Oct. 24—(P)—Twenty-three hunters died and 209 were wounded in killing nearly 12,000,000 pounds of game last year, President Ross L. Leffler of the State Game Commission announced last night.

The hunting casualties were the lowest since 1936, when commission figures showed 23 were killed and 159 wounded.

The 1944 bag, a little under 1943 in terms of total weight, topped the preceding year in numbers. Last year's kill amounted to 4,492,340 animals or fowl as compared with 4,288,168.

By far the greatest kill was among rabbits, with 2,702,395 bagged last year, as compared with 2,572,993. The deer kill was up to 28,411 antlered males, as against 23,931. However, 14,951 antlerless deer were shot in the 1943 open season, which was not repeated in 1944.

Other increases last year were in the kill of squirrels, up to 859,399 as compared with 779,745; raccoons, 49,746 as against 45,320; wild turkeys, 2,849, to 2,297; quail, 47,969, to 41,373; woodcocks, 16,400 to 15,588; Grackles (blackbirds), 39,175 to 25,764, and woodchucks, 171,722 to 157,202.

The bag fell off among bears, down to 295 as compared with 307 in 1943; hares, 3,665 from 3,716; Hungarian partridges, 209, from 230; ruffed grouse, 101,224 from 117,219; ringneck pheasants, 414,797 from 431,735; shorebirds, 1,371 from 1,779, and waterfowl, 52,716 from 53,998.

More than half of the accidents, Leffler reported, occurred on clear days, with the victim in another hunter's line of fire. Most of the victims, and those responsible, were adults. More than 87 per cent of the accidents happened during the small game season, and nearly 82 per cent were shot-gun wounds.

On the basis of 607,338 hunting licenses issued last year commission calculated that there was one fatal accident for every 26,406 licenses, and one non-fatal shooting for every 2,906 licenses.

Eastern Grid Elevens Near 'Upset Time'

New York, Oct. 23—(P)—Eastern football is approaching the showdown stage with Penn. Holy Cross and Columbia in the first row behind the Army and Navy powerhouses.

George Minger's Quakers, currently unbeaten, untied and unscored upon, appear headed for the unofficial Ivy League title, off results to date. Such unpredictable elements as injuries, the affects of playing both West Point and Annapolis and the early November shifts of Navy personnel can easily change all that. Penn has an excellent all-around back in Bob Evans and two speedy operatives in Don Schneider and Bob Denber.

Stan Koslowski's knee injury may slow up the Holy Cross attack as the Crusaders prepare to meet an under-rated Colgate club. The Red Raiders and the undefeated Temple team are rated the main threats to a perfect record for H. C.

Lou Little's Columbia Lions, I feel that he is our property. If Chandler lets Montreal and Brooklyn get by with this he's really starting a mess.

It was a moot question, of course, whether the commissioner actually would be available to the aggrieved Negro owners as a court to which they could carry their complaints, or whether his duties merely called for him to police his own organization.

The reaction of the Monarchs' co-owner was, perhaps, the most interesting obtained to the signing of the first Negro player to a contract in organized ball. It had been generally felt—and no doubt by Rickey himself—that the revolutionary move would be universally hailed by Negro baseball as the long-sought opening wedge into the big leagues.

President Clark Griffith of Washington Senators was quick to see the point of Baird's complaint, declaring:

"That is a well established league, and organized baseball shouldn't take their players. The Negro League is entitled to full recognition as a full-fledged baseball organization."

It gave every appearance of being a question that would have to be settled soon if Rickey, as was reported, had lined up some 25

SPORTS ACROSS PENNSYLVANIA

By Tom Shriver

Harrisburg, Oct. 24—(P)—Oiga's uncanny knack of picking winners was too much for Allen town's Canaries. . . their 20-game winning streak was smashed and once more Oiga is the favorite pin-up girl of Phillipsburg, N. J.

Charley Reilly, veteran sports editor of the Eastern Express discovered Oiga. . . In fact she is the Express' office girl. . . Two years ago when Allen town boasted of another winning streak they went to Phillipsburg to play in the rain. . . Oiga picked Phillipsburg to win.

This time the Canaries were again odds-on favorites. . . But Oiga picked Phillipsburg. . . Now if she will tell us who is to win the Easton-Bethlehem game we'll be happy.

Runs 108 Yards Adams Township made it seven straight by winning from Portage Township, 26-0. . . The feature of the game was a run of 108 yards for a touchdown. . . which should set a new record for the current season. . . The chap who grabbed the ball eight yards behind his own goal-line was Julius (Unke) Gmein (CQ).

Ranks Getting Thin The ranks of the state's unbeaten elevens are slowly but surely being cut down. . . Available records show only two major high school elevens with unbeaten, untied, and unscored upon records. . . One is at Donora where last year's WPIAL title-holders hope to repeat. . . They have chalked up 16 in a row over two years. . . Bedford has the other perfect record with seven straight this year, the latest over Mercersburg Academy, 26-0.

Other outstanding teams that have not tasted defeat are Huntingdon, State College, Curwens-

Baseball Dodgers Sign Negro Star, Won't Avoid Trouble; Negro Owners Seek Chandler

By SID FEDER

Montreal, Oct. 24—(P)—Speaking for the Brooklyn ball club, Branch Rickey, Jr., said today the Dodgers may have the alligator by the tail in signing the first Negro player ever admitted to organized baseball, but if trouble's head "we won't avoid it."

Hiring Jackie Robinson, ex-CLA football ace and U. S. Army lieutenant, to do his 1946 infielding for the Dodgers' International League farm—the Montreal Royals—the son of the Brooklyn president predicted it "even may cost the Brooklyn organization a number of ball players."

"But even if some players quit," he Dodge farm system director added as he reviewed the possible reactions of players and fans at the surprise signing here last night, "they'll be back after a year or two in a cotton mill."

Earlier—before coming out flatly with the statement that he and Royal's president, Hector Racine, "aren't inviting trouble, but won't avoid it"—young Rickey, in cover with Robinson all that the Negro shortstop's entry into organized baseball might imply, he explained that there might be difficulties for the quiet six-foot, 90-pounder from both players and fans alike in some quarters. He reviewed prejudices that exist in certain sections.

"I realize what I'm going into," Robinson said sincerely. "I also realize how much it means to me, to my race and to baseball. I'm very happy over this chance, and can only say I'll do my very best to come through in every manner."

Brought up from the Kansas City Negro Monarchs, which he joined after leaving the army last spring, Robinson represents a 25,000, three-year hunt by Branch Rickey, Sr., for Negro talent good enough to bring into the Brooklyn system, particularly as high as double-A ball.

According to the word around the Royals' ballfield here, he is only out of about a couple of dozen Negro players Rickey's scouts have rounded up after hunting through much of Latin America as well as the United States.

Robinson was brought into Brooklyn last August 29, accepted terms and agreed to sign before November 1, the first contract ever given a Negro player. Just what the terms were no one admitted here last night, but from Racine it was learned the Dodgers also threw in a "good bonus" for Robinson's signature. He will join the Royals next spring when they get training, possibly at Daytona, Fla., if they return to their pre-war workout grounds. A short-stop this year, Robinson explained he's also at home on first or second.

Last night's actual signing came as a complete surprise.

Even Frank Shaughnessy, International League president, who lives here, wasn't "in" on the secret. He heard about it an hour after Robinson signed, and called the Royals' office to learn the details. He couldn't foresee any extra violent reactions.

"After all," he pointed out, "as long as any fellow's the right type and can make good and get along with other players, he can play ball. There's no rule in baseball that says a Negro can't play."

Negro Owners Act

New York, Oct. 24—(P)—Senator A. B. "Happy" Chandler, who hasn't been getting along too happily, anyway, since he undertook to fill the late Judge Landis' shoes as baseball commissioner, can thank Branch Rickey, Sr., for his latest prospective headache.

Threatening to camp on the senator's doorstep today were the owners of the Kansas City Monarchs, Negro professional baseball team, whose star shortstop, Jackie Robinson, was signed by Rickey last night to a contract with the Brooklyn farm club at Montreal.

"We won't take it lying down," declared co-owner T. Y. Baird of the Monarchs. "Robinson signed a contract with us last year and I feel that he is our property. If Chandler lets Montreal and Brooklyn get by with this he's really starting a mess."

It was a moot question, of course, whether the commissioner actually would be available to the aggrieved Negro owners as a court to which they could carry their complaints, or whether his duties merely called for him to police his own organization.

The reaction of the Monarchs' co-owner was, perhaps, the most interesting obtained to the signing of the first Negro player to a contract in organized ball. It had been generally felt—and no doubt by Rickey himself—that the revolutionary move would be universally hailed by Negro baseball as the long-sought opening wedge into the big leagues.

President Clark Griffith of Washington Senators was quick to see the point of Baird's complaint, declaring:

"That is a well established league, and organized baseball shouldn't take their players. The Negro League is entitled to full recognition as a full-fledged baseball organization."

It gave every appearance of being a question that would have to be settled soon if Rickey, as was reported, had lined up some 25 and oppressions that led to deaths of hundreds of Jews and patriots. Quisling's defense was that he acted solely to advance Norway's interests in a German-dominated Europe. Sometimes hysterically, he called himself "the saviour of Scandinavia," the "Martyr of Norway." In his final plea he was "Quisling the patriot."

Penna. Welfare Conference Endorsed By Local Groups

That much constructive good will come from the Penna. Welfare conference to be held at the YWCA activities building Friday, from 10 to 4, and open to the public, is evidenced by the enthusiastic support given it by Warren's many social agencies. "We Are Coming" seems to be their slogan, with emphasis on board members and social workers.

Mrs. Carl Lundahl, president of the YWCA, says: "We are very pleased to be hostess to the Penna. Welfare Conference. Reservations for lunch are already above expectations, and we know this gathering is one of which Warren may well be proud."

Horace Cray, president of the Warren County Crippled Children's Committee: "We are interested in welfare work in Warren county and expect to have one or more board members at the conference Friday."

Mrs. Russell Elliott, president of the Children's Aid: "I want to stress the importance of the morning sessions. Mrs. Denman, the speaker, is one of the most fascinating and stimulating personalities I have ever been privileged to meet. I hope every one attending the conference will make a special point to hear Mrs. Denman at 10:30 Friday morning. The Children's Aid board is planning 100 per cent attendance."

George Haehn, chief of police: "The Warren Police Department is very eager to see Warren county welfare work extended and improved. Many of the cases which reach us are young people from unhappy homes where there is lack of parental care. We are 100 per cent in favor of the conference Friday and will attend."

George Seavy, chairman of Warren County Commissioners: "We feel that the Welfare Conference is an excellent thing for Warren county, and we plan to attend the meetings Friday."

Mrs. W. E. Cooney, Grand Regent of the Catholic Daughters: "It is cheering to note that Warren county is awakening to a need for more coordinated social work. The Catholic Daughters are glad to have a part in the Penna. Welfare conference Friday and know it will be of great value to them."

Rev. J. C. Wygant, president of the Warren County Board of Assistance: "We are cooperating in every way to make this, Warren county's first welfare conference, a lasting success. There is a need for greater understanding among welfare groups here, and we believe a discussion, led by the finest speakers in the state, will do much to create it."

Ralph Wagner, Y. M. C. A. secretary: "We are very pleased with the excellent program planned for the Penna. Welfare conference. Our staff members consider it a very fine thing. We are urging our busy board members to attend."

Mrs. Henrietta Bloom, president of the Warren Relief: "I hope every member of the Warren Relief board will attend. It is only through group discussions with state leaders and other Warren county agencies, that old worn-out methods can be discarded and new, progressive ways be substituted."

Miss Thurston, of the Visiting Nurses' Association: "We feel the Friday conference will be of great benefit and inspiration to the workers. When groups get together like this we all get new thoughts and ideas, we exchange ideas and ways of doing things. We keep going ahead."

Mrs. Vance Weld, commissioner of the Warren County Girl Scouts: "We are alive to the need of better home influences throughout Warren county, and are eager to learn more of the scope of state and county welfare work, so we can be in a better position to cooperate."

This conference is sponsored by the Warren County Council of Community Agencies.

Governor Martin Orders the Guard Retained Full Strength

Ordering the Pennsylvania Guard to be maintained at full strength, Governor Martin, in a statement today, said:

"Although the war has ended, the purposes and functions of the Guard have in no way diminished. 'Never in the history of the Commonwealth has there been such necessity for a strong internal security force, immediately ready for any contingency. The responsibilities of the Guard are today of highest importance."

"In the inevitable period of dislocation that follows even victorious war, Pennsylvania has a big job to do in reconvertng to peacetime activity, and our citizens are depending on the officers and men of the Guard to keep the Commonwealth fully protected and self-sufficient."

Governor Martin called attention to the directives issued last week to all regiments by Major General Milton G. Baker, the Commanding General, in which it was pointed out that no grounds whatever existed for the belief that the Guard would shortly be disbanded.

"The reactivation of the 28th Division as a National Guard unit," Governor Martin said, "is most unlikely before 1944, and in the meantime, the Pennsylvania Guard must continue to function as efficiently as it has during the past four years."

The Governor had high praise for the Guard's record of service and effectiveness, which he said was fully in accord with the traditions of the 28th Division. In the dark days of war, when suasive activity, or even a flash airborne invasion, was possible, the Guard stood ready to defend our industries and homes.

"It must be just as ready now," Governor Martin said, "to resist active disorder of any nature and maintain the principles of law, order and freedom within our boundaries. With the active support of the War Department, the Guard today is one of the strongest and best equipped in the country, but there is still need for experienced men, preferably discharged soldiers, to augment its personnel."

Call Boy Scout Training Valuable to Navy Men

Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz    Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King    James Forrestal Secretary of the Navy

Present and former Boy Scouts throughout the nation will join in the observance of Navy Day, Saturday, Oct. 27.

The value of Boy Scout training to the men of America's naval forces is told in messages received by the Boy Scouts of America.

Navy Secretary James Forrestal says: "The strength of democracy is shown in no better way than in the work of the Boy Scouts of America. The personnel of our Navy consists to a considerable degree of former Scouts. It has been a lesson to the totalitarian states of the world to witness how the Scouts, without regimentation, have organized to aid in the defeat of our enemies through wholehearted cooperation in home-front enterprises in support of our war effort. The nation is proud of you!"

Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King, Commander in Chief, U. S. Fleet and Chief of Naval Operations, says: "The value of Boy Scout training has been shown again and again among the men who make up the United States Navy. The qualities of leadership, patriotism, self-discipline and eagerness to learn which are instilled into every Scout have paid dividends in efficiency in our fleet. Together the Boy Scouts of America and the United States Navy are turning out good citizens—the future leaders of our peacetime world."

Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, Commander, First Fleet and Commander in Chief, Pacific Fleet, says: "In the Pacific Ocean Area, particularly, those who have had the benefit of Boy Scout training in pioneering, field craft, and the lore of living in the out-of-doors, were better equipped to win out over the enemy and the elements. All our fighting forces owe a debt to the leadership of this great movement to those men giving voluntarily and generously of their time and talents to maintain Scouting as a strong and beneficial influence in our national life."
